RAILWAYS IN MANCHURIA.

Arrangements for Through Communication.

Mr H. E. Fulford, H.B.M.'s Consul-General at Mukden, recently sent a dispatch respecting the arrangements which are being made for securing through railway communication across the Chinese Northern [Imperial Railways of North China and South Manchuria [Japanese] railway systems. The Sin-Chinese Northern Railway is running its own rolling-stock as far as Mukden. The connection of the two systems the latter place is at present being hampered by the question of stations and the difference of rolling-stock, but these difficulties will doubtless soon disappear in response to the demands for a through service. It was announced by the Japanese railway authorities, states Mr Fulford, that from July 1st a new scale of freight their line with no preferential rate in favour of Tairen. The scale is high, the charges being :-- 8 sen per ton per mile for first-class goods; 65 sen for second-class goods, which include beans and their pro-These rates are much higher than those of the Chinese line, which is now carrying beans for 2c, per mile.

BICYCLES IN THE FORBIDDEN CITY.

China is indeed moving and the old reverence for time honoured institutions is evidently wearing off in this back of the world empire as in the more up-to-date West. As every one knows who has been to Peking, the Forbidden City is semisacred as the immediate procincts of the Palaco, and to ride or even walk through it is a privilege for which there has to be some definite justification. The privilege of riding on horseback or in a sedan chair is specially accorded to officials whom the Emperor or Empress Dowager may seek to honour, and the idea of usurping these privileges and setting at defiance the privacy which had its origin no doubt in extreme nervousness on the part of the Manchus, has never so far as we know. been entertained until lately. That it has been so of recent date is apparent from the fact that a notification is now appearing in the Imperial City prohibiting any persons to walk about in the Forbidden City, or "ride on bicycles or horseback there," and censuring the officials responsible for the preservation of good order for having permitted great laxity in this matter.

This will come as news to many, and is an interesting indication of the change taking place in China, and the greater liberty of public thought and action. We have turned up old records and have failed to find any reference in past years to any such breach of Peking etiquette, and we are under the impression that this is the first time that any such notice has been issued.—"P. and T. Times."

During the Lusitania's stay in New York she was thrown open to the public, five thousand of whom, including many "souvenir hunters," rushed on board. At latest more advices the funnels and the engines were still in their places.

Messages concerning the riots have been refused at the telegraph office here, writes our Vladivostock correspondent on October 31, so that I was unable to telegraph you any news. The riots began yesterday on the other side of the bay and seventy soldiers and three officers were killed before they were suppressed. It is said that some companies of the 11th Regiment mutinied on the same day on an islet in the bay but of this I have no confirmation. I saw the destruction of the mutinous torpedo-boat destroyer Skory from the roof of my house and it was an appalling spectacle. Three other torpedo-boat destroyers and the cruiser Askold began to fire on her at half past ten in the morning. One shot entered the boiler room killing all the men as well as a woman revolutionary, a Jewess, who is said to have been commanding the crew. Then the Skory was run aground, but late in the afternoon she was towed round to the Navy docks for repairs. Vladivostock has been declared in a state of siege for a fortnight ... But all is now quiet .- " N .- C. Daily News."

A LOST WEDDING KING.

One of our vernacular contemporaries has an interesting story of the loss and recovery of a wedding ring, says, a Kobo paper. It is stated that Mr W. W. Nelson, of Kobe, whose marriage was recently announced in our columns, on Tuesday took a trip down the Hozukawa rapids, near Kypte, in company with his wife and some friends. While proceeding down the rapid Mr Nelson suggested that his wife had better hand him her wedding-ring, which was a treasured heirloom, lest in the excitement of shooting the rapids she should lose it. Unfortunately he had scarcely taken the ring for safe keeping than, presumably owing to a lurch of the boat, he dropped it overhoard. The men made efforts to stop the boat, but failing to do so, a party of them went back after the journey's end Yen 24,000,000 Was reached and began diving for the ring in water that was about ten feet deep. After about three hours' close search the ring was found and brought back to Mr Nelson, who was much gratified, and offered the boatmen present of money. They refused to take any reward, however, saying that foreigners always accused them of making excessive charges and they wished to show how unfounded were aspersions upon their character which represented them to be grasping. Foreigners who have made such accusations must now feel-perhaps-how unjust they were. However, Mr Nelson, having thanked the men for their zeal, went back to the hotel and made a present to them through the manager.

THE INTERPORT MATCH.

TRIALS of skill such as that which has will again take to itself the control of the the more advanced provinces are not been taking place to-day on the Cricket line and it is not unlikely that orders Ground are rightly regarded as a wholesome and valuable variation of the comparative monotony of local sport. This is not to say that the performances of local teams, when pitted against each other, are without interest. But when our friendly rivals from Shanghai or Singapore visit us with the resolve to wrest our laurels from ue and take them away with them many who find themselves too much occupied with other matters to attend matches between local teams deem it necessary to encourage with their presence those who strive for the interport honours. They have attacked villages and at the present hour they hold one of the captivity and demand a ransom of $14,000 ere he is released. They slew a short time ago one Li Ngan Kwang, and flung his body into the sea, so that the relatives were not able to offer him a decent burial, and so frightened were the friends of the murdered man that they dared not apprise the officials of the outrage. These are some of the strocities recounted by the icurry in his despatch just sent to the District magistrate. What truth or what exaggeration there may be in these statements cannot be known at present.

The negligence and supineness of the military officials have roused the anger of His Excellency, and he has ordered that at once their buttons be wrenched from them, and then without these buttons they are to set about, in right good earnest, to root out these robbers and bring the leaders to justice. Should they fail it would seem to be hinted that these official will lose not only their buttons but their bread and butter also.

It is worthy of note that it was mentioned last night that the revolutionaries are active in Annam, and are proparing to send mon andweapons into Kwangtung. There is every probability that it will be wiso on the part of the officials to keep their eyes open, for it is not difficult nowndays for rebels in Annam to be in close touch with members of the Triad Society in each party is precisely the same.

THE CRICKET CARNIVAL.

FIRST DAY,

Shanghai's First Innings.

Good Start by Hongkong.

Although the opening of the Cricket Carnival this morning was not attended by the brilliant sunshine which would have perhaps, enhanced the picturesqueness the ground to the spectators the rain held off and the light, at least in the earli part of the day, left little to be desire from a cricketer's point of view. Even in -the drab light which provailed the morning the ground looked attractive, of colour. Festoons of Chinese lanterns added materially to its picturesqueness.

there are in Hongkong many adherents to though he bumped a good deal. the creed that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." From the Governor down there was evidently no intention of running any risk in the direction of becoming dull, and business was for the time left carefully alone. While it would be much easier to mention those who were not present than those who were it may be mentioned that besides the Governor and Lady Lugard and suite there were noticed, in a word, everybody who is any. body in Hongkong.

The previous ball had all but taken Anderson's wicket. 1-1-15. Rodolph wont in. Ollerdessen was playing carefully but he put a loose one from Makin to the boundary and Rodolph broke his duck by a light tap on the leg side. Of the first 27 runs, scored in twenty minutes, Ollerdessen had made 25, five of his hits reaching the boundary. Makin was warmly applauded for a brilliant field-stopping a very hard drive by Ollerdessen with his left hand. JAPANESE IN MANCHURIA

Cannot Compete with Chinese,

Competition between the South Manchuria Railway and the Chinese line seems to be tending in favour of the latter. It is stated that between the 15th and the 26th of October 2,100 tons of bean cake were transported from Mukden over the Heinmintun route, while not so much as one ton came to the South Manchuria Railway, and present appearances indicate that in the near future slso the latter will be similarly discriminated against. The greater cheapness of the Chinese railway is of course the principal determining factor in this matter, but it is very possible that national feeling has something to say to it. At all eventa the directors of the South Manchuria Railway will have to lower their charges in the face of Chinese competition.

Meanwhile the Chinese authorities, not content with this direct competition between the railways, engaged a foreign engineer, Mr Drake, to examine and report upon the feasibility of dredging the Line River so as to convert it into a really useful waterway between Mukdou and FHHERE is probably no medicine made Newchwang. No. 16s.-Not much meddling Touchwood, makes a formal hive astir, who then go much farther than Ruled quiet. Prices show a decline of $2 | the complainant ever contemplated; and afterwards rest upon their hurels, satisfied that no one will for some time to come at speak advisedly, having claimed their interference ere now for abating the fearful nuisance of dog challenging dog to a howling match, and cocks keeping awake all night to practise crowing, which, judging from the sad specimens they give us, must have been sadly neglected in their youth, Our claim upon the Police was what we conceived belonged to every quiet-going citizen; but not being at first well grounded we turned to their own recorded fiat against dogs straying after ten o'clock at night, and forthwith orders were issued to ruthlessly destroy by felling. stabbing, and even shooting all manner of dogs that dared to show themselves after appointment in his stead has been received that hour. This declaration of war was speedily followed by the destruction of the finest dog in the place, to the universal regret of his acquaintance, biped as well as quadruped; but the result has cer tainly been a wholesome restinint on the neighouring curs, and a general abstement of the nuisance for a time at any rate. Of late it is gradually growing again and will no doubt pass unheeded until the warm weather returns and makes folk restless and fretful o'nights. We have no doubt that this peremptory interference with the players has arisen out of a complaint from some unhappy wight who thought only of himself in the matter; for he must know that at t'e now universal dinner hour it is impossible for any European engaged in business during the day to visit the singsong before about nine o'clock; and we beg to assure him, that with much to our notions seems absurd. it is well worth witnessing, not only as showing us what the Drama of China is and has without doubt been long before Thalia and Melpomene were doified in the West, but as exhibiting in our poor judgment some specimens of natural acting which are appreciable by every man of perception and cultivated taste, and would do no discredit to our own stage at the present day.

For ourselves therefore, and for that portion of the public whose curiosity has or would have led them to the sing-song, we trust the police instructions may relaxed, and if the Chinese Theatre cannot be permitted to remain open so late as an English one, at all events let the players have the same indulgences as the dogs by suffering them to prolong their performances to ten o'clock at least. In England they have never been classed lower than "vagabonds" by Act of Parliament, and "Majesty's Servants" by Royal Warrant: but here the Police show them less favour than they do to brutes that are good for

SIR ROBERT HART'S SUCCESSOR.

China Association and Sir Robert Bredon.

The "China Times" (Tientsin) publishes addressed to the Foreign Office by the to be a Royal residence. committee of the China Association and which was the occasion of some comment here recently :-

China Association, 159 Cannon-street, London, E. C., Sept. 27, 1907.

Sir,-The anxiety regarding the status of the Imperial Chinese Maritime Customs service which was excited by the Edict of May 9, 1906, was measurably allayed by the subsidence of activity on the part of the Chinese Comptrollers after the emphatic protests to which the Edict gave rise.

It has been observed with regret, howupon public matters perhaps you may be ever, that the innovation involved in the able to explain why the Police compel the transfer of control from the Wai-wu-pu to Chinese players to shut shop so early as 9 the new office is sustained, and the Associa- series of oratorical triumphs. The only o'clock. I, with many others, went to the tion adheres in the fullest sense to the singsong last, night; minimediately after criticisms expressed in its communications dinner, and had not been scated an hour to the Foreign Office on August 30, when, to my amazement, and the utter September 24 and 25, and November 16 the grey port, for instance, would ever to train Chinese for Customs work is said to be in contemplation, with the intention ranks hitherto filled by foreigners; and the troller of an official so distinguished as Lu Hai-huan negatives any supposition that the tinsel. Edict might in other respects lie dormant.

The desire of the Chinese to sinicise (if the expression may be permitted) an important department is not only intelligible | Queen Victoria were-" A true Queen of but natural, and might command sympathy if the possibility of effecting the change without risk to efficiency could be admitted. But it cannot be admitted.

Among the various transformation scenes that have been witnessed lately at Peking -the transmutation of offices and changes amid all the various projects and pretences of reform, there has been no sign of improvement in the financial methods which permeate Chinese officialdom.

"The invetorate system of marketing rank and offices (noted in "The Times" telegram of March 31 last) requires that the Chinese employee promoted in the Customs or in other Government departments shall purchase corresponding rank, the price whereof is really a toll levied thus tempted if not compelled to recoup himself at the cost of the service - this not being condemned by the public conscience." And if corruption rendered inevitable at the first, the case of the San-tuno Customs cited in the Association's letter of August 30, 1906. shows to what it may descend.

The potential danger to the interests o trade and of the Chinese revenue involved in derogation from the high standard at which the service has been maintained was admitted by the Secretary of State in Parliament on August 6, 1906, and Association might not have desired to reaffirm the views itself expressed at the some period but for the uneasiness excited by current reports of impending changes in the Inspectorate General itself. reports that have been current of Sir Robert Hart's intention to visit England either permanently or on leave. But would be failing in duty if it neglected to express the apprehension with which the accompanying report of Sir Robert Bredon's

The supreme importance to the welfare of a service comprising foreigners of nearly every Western nationality that its chie should possess the confidence and esteen not only of the Chinese Government, but of the foreign Legations at Peking and of the members of the service itself, is too obvious to need affirmation, except the purpose of insisting on the difficulties that might arise in the path of one who was deficient in those qualifications.

It is unlikely, perhaps, that one should be found commanding the full measure of authority that has become imbued, as i were, in Sir Robert Hart's personality commensurately with the growth of th service which he has practically created Nor perhaps, is any one likely to command the unanimous assent of the many diverse interests concerned in a case that may be described probably as unique. But it believed that a nearer approach at least to unanimity might be attained; and the danger that a chief lacking a full measure of support might be obliged to yield to encroachment where the general welfare is concerned is so obvious that the Association, feels constrained to press very is quite another question. carnestly on his Majesty's Government the urgent necessity of taking steps without lelay to prevent the appointment being made, temporary or otherwise, of one wh will not secure the confidence of the British communities in China, nor, they beg to add, of the members of the staff of the Maritime Customs, which could alone ensure the maintenance of the efficiency and integrity of the service. I have the honour to be, Sir, your mos obedient servant, R. S. Gundry, President China Association.

LAND OF OPHIR.

Dr Karl Peters' Theory

Bentin, October 16.

Dr Karl Peters has explained at a public inceting his theory that the Biblical Land of Ophir is located between the Zambesi and the Limpopo rivers. Dr Peters himself discovered many shafts of ancient gold mines, 500 ancient temples, fortifications, coins recently uncurthed in Mashonaland belong undoubtedly, he says, to the time of King Solomon. No other part of Africa could have exported the ivory, silver, and precious stones which are recorded in the Bible as coming from Ophic.

The Leith people were fortunate in inducing him to take a leading part in the proceedings: It is the kind of function which suits his peculiar talents; of honomry duties upon ceremonial occasions; and his speech at the inevitable luncheon was one more addition to his long bjection that could be taken to was that several of the phrases were too strained for the sake of ornadream of calling it by the name of "The The substitution in certain cases of City of Queens;" yet Lord Resebery did so, and on the slonder excuse that several of Leith. Commenting upon the address, one journal made a pregnant remark—"Lord Rosebery's eulogy of the immediate past will cause many of its readers to reflect on his own political isolation. Why should this man be standing outside of the arena wherein he ought to be one of the leading. figures? Matthew Arnold once described himself as 'a pensive outsider.' Assuredly Special the role of pensive outsider is not a fit one for Lord Rosebery. He is elequent of the achievements of statesmanship in the past. Where is his own contribution to the statesmanship of to-day?"

It must be said for Lord Rosebery, however, that he has evidently an intention of keeping himself before the public at the present time, though still on the outside of the political arena. He lets no opportunity pass without his little word, especially if it is of a social and non-committal success, and to make it more acceptable to character. Hongkong Tides.

Hongkong Sub: Coln $41°/co dis.

The tide table given below has been compiled at the Nautical Almanac Office in London from the result of the analysis of observations taken by means of an automatic tide-recording machine in the Water Police Basin at Tsim Sha Tsui during the years 1887-8-9.

The zero of the table corresponds with the zero of the soundings in the Admiralty Charts which has been found to be 4 feet 3 inches bolow mean sea level. To obtain the depth of water on the tide gauge at the Victoria Naval Yard add 3 feet 4 inches, and on the gauge at Lamont Dock, Aberdeen, add 10 feet 6 inches to the height given in the table.
